Change is one of the irresistible laws of nature, and fortunately the change is almost invariably for the better. As an instance of this, St. Patrick's Pills are fast taking the place of the old harsh and violent cathartics, because they are milder and produce a pleasanter effect, besides they are much more beneficial in removing morbid matter from the system and prevent ague and other malarious diseases. As a cathartic and liver pill they are almost perfect. For sale by Geo. C. Thaxter.

How Can Parents

allow their children to cough and strain and cough and strain say: "Oh! it's only a little cold," and keep giving them cheap and dangerous medicines, until they are down with lung fever or consumption, when they can be so easily relieved by BEGG'S CHERRY COUGH SYRUP? It has no superior and few equals. W. H. Chedic, Druggist.

Judge Deady, if reported correctly by the Eastern papers is indulging in considerable uncalculated gab in connection with the case of Mrs. Terry pending before him. As a Judge about to try a case, he would show up better if he confined his opinions to his decisions.

Remarks on Job Printing.

The APPEAL has never been so thoroughly equipped to give the people of Carson City good job work at low prices as now. It has recently laid in a complete new outfit of job type, and with new presses, the latest novelties in type, and steam appliances, is prepared to do job work better and cheaper than any office in the State of Nevada.

It is proposed to place prices within the reach of everybody, and from this on no one in this city has any reason to send abroad for job work, either because it cannot be gotten here of good quality or low prices.

It is a clear case of satisfaction guaranteed both in price and quality or money refunded.

What on Earth

Is the reason people will not, cannot, or do not see any difference in cheap nostrums put up by Cheap John houses or irresponsible parties at enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at equal price? No medicine in the world is giving such unparalleled satisfaction for purifying the blood as BEGG'S BLOOD PURIFIER & BLOOD MAKER, and every bottle that does not do its work, will cost you nothing. W. H. Chedic, Druggist

Cough! and Cough!! and Cough!!!

What in the world is the reason you will cough and keep coughing and still keep trying inferior medicines when BEGG'S CHERRY COUGH SYRUP will positively relieve your cough at once? This is no advertising scheme, but an actual fact, and we guarantee it. W. H. Chedic, Druggist.

Mr. E. P. HOW TO GET A PASS.

Valuable Hints to Those Who Have Never Tried It.

In 1886 William L. Scott, a strong anti-railroad man, wrote to Chauncey Depew for a pass, and the letter has just reached the newspapers. It reads as follows:

My Dear Mr. Depew:—I don't often ask for favors in the way of passes, but if I could get an annual pass, good until January, over the New York Central Railroad—and it would suit me better if I could get it from New York to Erie—in favor of Harry Butterfield, it would be of great advantage to me in my fight here in this district, and, although you are a Republican and I a Democrat, we do not differ much in regard to our views in connection with corporate property, and I may be able to serve those interest should I pull through again. I am sure the pass will not be used three times between now and January 1st. Yours truly, W. L. Scott.

This is not the way to ask for a railroad pass. In tackling a large corporation for a pass don't let the size of the corporation awe you, or if it does awe you, keep the fact to yourself. Give the railroad to understand that you are paying them a great compliment to ride over their line. At least, talk that way whether you mean it or not.

Never let a railroad official put on any dog with you. What little dog is necessary put on yourself. This is the way Scott should have written to Depew:

My Dear Depew:—I want an annual pass over your line, and I want it hustled down lively. Make it for myself and wife and servant girl. I am still forlorn your old road and always will be, but I'm willing to ride over the old death trap occasionally rather than have you think I'm turned the cold shoulder on the line. If the weather was liable to be any way decent this year I'd rather walk than anything else.

Make the passes out for the year. Better put in an extra one for my wife's sister; she'll be out in the Spring. Inclosed is a copy of my last speech against your road. It's a ripper and no mistake, and I think it will cost you lots of votes in my district next election.

It's high time you began to treat the public decent if you expect to pay any more dividends. Everybody is cursing your bull-headed management in my town, and I think they have good cause to.

Give my love to Mrs. Depew and the girls. If I get down to your place this Summer I'll drop in and spend a few days.

Yours truly, SCOTTY.

A Slander Exploded.

When a San Francisco paper published a yarn to the effect that a man had attempted to murder a woman in Carson, and hinted that the Sheriff of the county and the District Attorney were cognizant of the fact and were attempting to cover it up, the APPEAL exposed the fraudulent character of the woman's assertions, and now the San Francisco papers are taking the back track and admit that the woman is an imposter. Had this sensational story been allowed to go unretracted, a number of people in this city would have rested under a cloud, and the city itself have received a decided black eye.

Frank Daniels.

The popular young comedian, Mr. Frank Daniels, will appear at the Opera House to-morrow in the funniest of comedies, "Little Puck." The piece is running over with funny situations and laughable climaxes, and afford Mr. Daniels admirable opportunity for displaying the peculiar style of acting which won him fame in his rendition of the character of "Old Sport" in the "Rag Baby." His every move means a laugh, and aside from being a "whole show" in himself Mr. Daniels has surrounded himself with a first-class company, with whose assistance he brings out all the fun there is in one of the funniest comedies ever written.

A man remarked on the street last evening: "D— these moral lessons from newspapers, what we want is news."

Blythe as a Masher.

The following is one of the letters introduced in the Blythe case:

TUESDAY MORNING, NOV. 21, 1876.

MY DEAREST HARRY: What has become of you. Nothing since the letter I got at Brighton some months ago, I hope you are quite well. I have a new name for you: "The faithless, fickle, flirting, roving Harry Blythe." You have a lot to answer for, sir, leaving a poor little woman so long to fret. I tell you all the news. I is no use my trying to flirt after having known you. Other men are like taking water with one's dinner after having been used to champagne. There's a confession. Je suis tres misérable et triste et desole. It is very unkind of Mr. Harry not to write to me—really it is. Why not tell if you are coming back again to England. I wonder whether you will write me this side of Christmas. Not hearing from you I have nothing more except my love. Your own. Lou.

The woman must have discovered early in the game that Blythe had money.

He Knows Where to Go Proddley—I hear you have been getting married?

Tooker—Yes; I married Millie Jones, her mother, her step-father and two maiden aunts.
